

ICARUS

The Greek myth of Icarus tells how Daedalus and his son Icarus were imprisoned on Crete. Daedalus created wings made of feathers and beeswax to escape. He warned Icarus not to fly too low or too high. Icarus, however, ignored his father's sound advice and flew too close to the sun. As the wax melted, he plummeted to his death.

This story of courage and hubris, but also of unique creativity and of pushing boundaries to craft something almost impossible, provided the inspiration for this collection. Blending unique, creative designs with technical innovation, Icarus uses materials that have never been incorporated into wallcoverings in this way before. The innovative designs of the Icarus collection celebrate craftsmanship and redefine the boundaries of what is possible.

Armalu

Ancient Sicilian influences and mythical scenes are combined in a panorama that takes its name from the legendary beast – Armalu means animal in Sicilian – depicted on it. The panoramic has a unique vintage effect thanks to the background with a parchment paper look.

Armalu is available in 2 colourways.

Penumbra

This unique wallcovering is made from hand-woven strands of bakbak, which have been meticulously arranged in a wavy pattern using a fine thread. The irregular waves and space between the strands create an interesting, graduated effect, to which this design owes its name: a penumbra is a half-shadow.

Penumbra is available in 6 colourways.

Telaio

Telaio is a beautiful faux-plain wallcovering made of woven raffia that has been hand-laid into a subtle block pattern. Lean in for a closer look, and you will discern the artful patchwork. The name refers to the technique used to create this pattern: Telaio is the Italian word for loom.

Telaio is available in 11 colourways.

Alata

This innovative design features a background of woven sisal, onto which the pattern has been embroidered with hessian. The coloured thread contrasts nicely with the hessian and the sisal. Let your gaze linger and you will discover Icarus's wings in this pattern. This also inspired its name, Alata, which is Latin for winged.

Alata is available in 6 colourways.

Indomito

Indomito combines two robust, natural materials to create an original, bold geometric pattern. The pattern has been meticulously embroidered onto the woven raffia background with hessian. The design is named after the Sicilian word for untamed.

Indomito is available in 5 colourways.
