

PRISMATIC

A meeting of physics and design: Prismatic captures the moment when light breaks, bends, and disperses into a vibrant spectrum of colours. This wallcovering evokes the fascinating effect of a prism reflecting light in countless directions – bright, unexpected, and constantly in motion.

The designs within the Prismatic collection reflect a play of fragmented light, with layered structures continually intriguing to the eye. Natural materials such as raffia, ramie fibres, and hemp, bring a calming appearance and tactile warmth to walls as these wallcoverings immerse the interior in an enthralling atmosphere – resembling a light display that never stands still.

Rutile

Rutile consists of wide strips of handwoven raffia inlaid to create a dynamic pattern. Their varied directions and rich tones create a vibrant, almost crystalline effect. The design takes its name from rutilated quartz – a mineral known for its light reflection and fine linear structures – and evokes a similar sense of layering and natural refinement.

Rutile is available in 5 colourways.

Refraction

The Refraction design features coarse raffia strips, handwoven, cut, and carefully inlaid. Each colour combination offers a mix of natural and hand-dyed strips that create a design which is strictly geometric but with a natural, playful twist.

Refraction is available in 4 colourways.

Reflect

Narrow, elegant raffia strips have been hand-dyed, then woven, cut, and inlaid to form the Reflect wallcovering. The geometric pattern subtly references the sophisticated symmetry of diamond facets.

Reflect is available in 4 colourways.

Gradient

The Gradient wallcovering is woven from narrow ramie fibres. The fine, irregular knots bring this natural material to life. Available in a rich palette of vibrant, earthy tones that bring warmth and elegance to an interior.

Gradient is available in 10 colourways.

Diffuse

Diffuse owes its character to a strikingly open weave of hemp. The transparency of the natural fabric allows the background colour to shine as it emerges clearly and distinctly between the loose woven hemp. The contrast between the pure, undyed yarn and the background colour makes the Diffuse wallcovering a refined eye-catcher.

Diffuse is available in 8 colourways.
