Bordeaux – an enchanting gem

7 articles in 27 colours

Every vintage has its personality, as is the case not only with wine but with the new spring collection BORDEAUX from JAB Anstoetz. Characterful upholstery fabrics with a special flair have been created. Classic medallions meet fine arabesques on satin grounds which conjure up a soft shimmer. Elegant graphic motifs, but also floral designs surprise with sophistication in their material composition. Not only lovers of classic interiors will be delighted: thanks to the finely coordinated, almost monochrome hues the upholstery fabrics also fit into modern furnishing schemes, their unobtrusive colour palette providing decorative elegance. Arranged according to five colour families, the smart jacquards please in an elegant cream/off-white, a sophisticated champagne/gold or in pastel-feminine combinations such as strawberry/light grey, lilac/mint green and greige/azure.

The upholstery fabric BORDEAUX from which the collection derives its name, displays an outstanding gloss that makes the pattern of the damask fabric appear in an almost three-dimensional fashion. Cotton, viscose and acetate have been used. The sophisticated weaving technique further emphasises the detailed design through light reflections. The classic baroque medallion sets an exclamation mark in the room.

Sweeping tendrils and leaves cover the damask CASTILLON. A two-colour yarn forms the pattern sections, which are set off against the glossy satin ground in a slightly grainy fashion. Different degrees of gloss from the polyester and viscose yarns conjure up an expressive look.

The delicate, floral design MERLOT leads the onlooker into a castle garden. Dainty buds, leaves and blossoms spread over a modestly shimmering satin ground. The glossy sections of the blossoms and leaves appear sometimes more, sometimes less dominantly. The design underscores its feminine character with typical boudoir colours such as rosy-pink and lilac.

MEDOC is a subtle composition: a filigree, classic damask motif is framed by a border on the right and the left. Beside it, stripe variations form a bold block stripe – an expressive contrast.

Interlocking diamond patterns form the geometric design of the jacquard SAUTERNES. Little triangles that rasterise the edges of the diamonds soften the severity of the pattern. A breath of drama is injected by filigree highlights.

CABERNET impresses with a 3D effect woven into the fabric. Compact little rhombs appear to grow out of the satin ground. Smart bindings at the transitions between ground material and pattern provide a shadow effect and thus an illusion. Ingenious!

Additional weft threads lend the plain fabric MARGAUX a casual two-tone effect and a subtle stripe look. Woven as an open satin, the fabric reveals a restrained lustre due to its high viscose component.
